PRACTICE AREAS

- Real Estate Law
- Estate Litigation

Jacqueline N. Roman is an Associate at Abrams Fensterman in the Real Estate Litigation department. An experienced litigator, Jacqueline represents clients in a wide range of business and commercial disputes, including high-value real estate matters and complex litigation involving breach of contract, breach of fiduciary duty, and fraud. She handles cases from inception through resolution and regularly appears in state and federal court and in arbitration before the AAA and JAMS. Her experience also includes advising New York City condominium and cooperative boards as general counsel.

Jacqueline draws from her experience as a judicial law clerk to the Hon. Franklin U. Valderrama in the Chancery Division of the Circuit Court of Cook County, where she drafted numerous bench memoranda and published memorandum opinions on matters involving class actions, breach of fiduciary duty, contract and statutory interpretation, and administrative review.

Jacqueline earned her Juris Doctorate from Brooklyn Law School. She graduated with a Bachelor of Arts from Boston College where she majored in French.

Jacqueline is admitted to practice in New York and Illinois, and in the Southern and Eastern Districts of New York.
