Of Counsel

After a year as Chief of Staff to Mayor Eric Adams, Frank Carone is returning “Of Counsel” to Abrams Fensterman, LLP.

“The past year has been exhilarating. I’ve had the opportunity to manage, under Mayor Adams’ leadership, the greatest city in the world—dealing with the host of legal and political challenges of managing a $104 billion budget and 325,000 government employees. While I enjoyed every minute of my public service, I’m excited to return to working back home with Abrams Fensterman.”

Additionally, Mr. Carone launched a public affairs practice, Oaktree Solutions, Ltd, which provides consulting services including issue advocacy and market positioning, litigation support, crisis management, government relations strategy, business development support, executive problem solving, and WMBE consulting. These two roles complement each other in many ways.
