
Robert Spolzino Discusses Mayor Adams Campaign Finance Lawsuit on WABC

FEATURED ATTORNEY

Robert A. Spolzino

Executive Partner

Abrams Fensterman Executive Partner Robert Spolzino, who heads the firm's White Plains office, was recently interviewed on the Cats & Cosby show on New York's WABC Radio.

Spolzino is serving as lead counsel in a lawsuit filed on behalf of New York City Mayor Eric Adams against the New York City Campaign Finance Board. The case centers on the Board's refusal to release matching campaign funds. Drawing on his experience as a former Justice of the Appellate Division, Spolzino discussed the lawsuit and its implications for the mayor and the broader electoral process. Listen to the full interview with Judge Spolzino below, or on WABC radio.

A Trusted Firm for High-Stakes Political Law

Abrams Fensterman is the go-to legal partner for high-profile political, campaign, and election law matters throughout New York. Led by a team that includes seasoned litigators, former judges, and policy experts, the firm continues to advise government leaders, elected officials, and political campaigns at the highest levels.